State Booze Monopoly Faces Double-Barrel Inquiry

CITY WORKERS ASK PAY HIKE

HERBERTBACKS OHIO SENATE'S LIQUOR PROBE

'No Conflict With Attorney General's Investigation,' Governor Announces.

COLUMBUS—(NS)—Governor Herbert promised today his fullest cooperation to an investigation of the state liquor department ordered by the Ohio senate.

The governor explained there was no conflict between the senate investigation—reminiscent of the famed "hot-rail" highway probe of the Davey days—and the inquiry he requested Attorney General Hugh S. Jenkins to make into the issuance of club licenses.

"The Jenkins investigation is entirely administrative and confined to the last 30 days of the Lausche administration," Herbert stated.

"We will cooperate fully with the senate committee, and they will be welcome to all information available."

By a 26-to-2 vote the senate approved a resolution establishing a five-member committee to "take any and all of the steps necessary to determine the truth or falsity of the allegations, charges, rumors and reports" about the state liquor department in the last two or three years.

* * *

Two Oppose Move.

The two votes cast against the resolution, by Sens. Clinghan Jackson and Nichols Bernard, Youngstown Democrats, were the first negative votes recorded in the senate since deliberations started nearly four weeks ago.

The five-member committee, headed by Sen. Rowe Walcutt (R-Columbus) was instructed to inquire into "all matters pertaining to the issuance of permits, purchase of liquor, employment of personnel and any and all things that pertain to the liquor department."

Walcutt said there would be no formal hearings by the select committee until he could establish procedure in informal gatherings with the other commission members—Sens. Raymond Hildebrand (R-Toledo), Kyle Banks (R-Cincinnati), Carl D. Seppard (R-Akron) and Margaret A. Mahoney (D-Cleveland). He indicated, however, that a hearing might be held late next week.

Majority Leader Frank E. Whittemore (R-Akron), who sponsored the resolution explained that there was no dare to sidetrack either the Jenkins probe, which he stated was concerned only with the issuance of permits during the closing days of the Governor Lausche regime, or the Hildebrand resolution calling for a committee to go into the entire question of a state monopoly.

Firms Gambled, Lost on Portal Pay, States CIO

DETROIT—(AP)—The CIO declared today the outpouring of portal pay suits for more than $4,000,000,000 resulted from a "colossal gamble" by employers to evade the wage-hour act.

Union attorneys contended in a brief filed with Federal Judge Frank A. Picard that employer liability for such pay had been spelled out time and again since 1939.

"Instead of complying with the act, in accordance with those administrative rulings and judicial decisions," they said, "American employers in wholesale fashion gambled on evading the act, hoping to escape the consequences."

Opening of the court session, originally scheduled for 9:30 a. m., was delayed for an hour and fifteen minutes. Federal Judge Picard and both union and company attorneys held a special conference in the judge's chambers.

Most of the portal pay suits have been filed by CIO member unions.

Attorneys for labor, industry and the government were to argue before Judge Picard in a hearing expected to wind up today.

A supreme court decision upholding Judge Picard's findings in a case involving the Mt. Clemens (Mich.) Pottery company opened the flood gates for the similar litigation which followed on a vast scale. The pottery firm itself has only 1,200 employes.

Judge Must Decide.

Judge Picard held that the workers were entitled to back pay for non-productive time necessarily spent on company premises. The supreme court, agreeing, directed him to determine how much the pottery employes should receive.

The CIO brief was filed in connection with Judge Picard's hearing today of views from labor, industry and the government on what the damages ought to be.

"There have been hysterical outcries that unless this case is decided adversely to the workers the very pillars of the republic will fall," the brief said.

The brief declared employers involved "have sought to create an atmosphere in which their own wrongdoing will be obscured and their irresponsibility overlooked."

The CIO attorneys said an interpretive bulletin from the administrator of the wage-hour act in July, 1939, laid down the general rule that "hours worked" would include "all time during which an employe is required to be on duty on the employer's premises."

Cite Court Opinions.

They cited a long series of subsequent opinions by the administrator and findings by courts to support this definition.

The CIO took direct issue with a justice department brief already before Judge Picard which argued in favor of applying the "de minimus doctrine" to the time involved. "De minimus" is the doctrine that the law does not concern itself with trifles.

The union brief commented:

"The brief submitted to the court by the department of justice presents a novel formula whereby the claims of the workers may be split into minute fractions and each portion eliminated as de minimus."

SCHOOL HEADS REPLY TO PAY BOOST CHARGES

All Teachers Getting $500 Increase as Promised, Miller, Arlin Say.

Denials of the charges that many teachers in the Mansfield school system are not getting the promised $500 yearly salary increase came today from Harold W. Arlin, president of the board of education, and W. L. Miller, superintendent of schools.

"All regular full-time teachers, without exception, are receiving the raises. If some are not, I suggest they go to the office of the superintendent and see the actual figures," Arlin said.

Miller said the salary boosts are in effect "with the few exceptions of part-time teachers."

* * *

Charges Hurled.

Arlin and Miller made the statements after individuals in a mass meeting of some 200 parents and teachers at John Simpson auditorium Tuesday night charged that the $500 increase was "only on paper."

Miller pointed out that salary costs of the board in 1947 are $204,29 higher than they were in 1946, a reflection of the salary increases to teachers and other employes. Of the $204,299 boost in salary costs, $179,199 will be spent for costs of instruction, or wages of teachers, principals and supervisors, he said.

He compared the increased cost of salaries throughout the system — $204,299 — with the county auditor's official estimate of the amount of money—$203,-991—that will be derived from the three-mill levy passed by the voters last fall.

"You can see from these figures that the board is already allocating more money for salary increases than the lefy will bring us," Miller said.

Remarking that many teachers probably do not know "how to figure" the salary boosts, Arlin said that some of those who are dissatisfied are "going to everybody but the superintendent or the board for information."

Arlin said that many teachers may be confused over when certain percentages of the $500 increase will actually be received in pay checks.

"Our system issues pay checks every two weeks over a 12-month period. One-fourth of the pay earned in October, September, November, and December each year is received by the teacher in six pay periods in the following summer. Since this salary increase did not take effect until Jan. 1 of this year, part of pay earned in 1947 will not be received until the summer of 1948," Arlin said.

$30 MONTHLY BOOST SOUGHT IN PETITIONS

Request For Second Increase Since June to Go Before Council Next Week.

Mansfield city employes today were preparing to ask city council for a $30 a month "cost-of-living" pay raise.

Petitions for the increases, being circulated in virtually every city department, are to be submitted to council Tuesday. They ask the raise to be made retroactive to Jan. 1.

If every city employe is granted a $30 raise it would mean a net gain of $50 a month for the average worker since December, 1945.

In June of last year most employes were granted $10 increases to add to a $10 raise voted in December, 1945. Some employes, however, came in for raises in June, ranging from $5 to $25.

The new boost, if granted, would lift the city's monthly payroll by about $6,000. The two previous $10 boosts added some $4,500 to the monthly payroll. The city now pays about $536,000 a year in wages.

* * *

Other Requests Trimmed.

Council, in the past, has trimmed sizable amounts from pay raise petitions before granting raises. In June, the original request was for $25 a month.

Whether the city's "bankroll" will stand a $30 boost is questioned by some city officials. Councilmen have been urged to stay within the $970,000 budget voted for this year because of booming costs. The budget was the largest in the city's history.

Council's finance committee chairman, Russell Porch, and Mayor Roy W. Vaughn have recommended strongly that council make extra appropriations only in extreme emergencies.

A breakdown of the city's estimated expenditures and receipts for the year, prepared by City Auditor Paul Kelley, shows that the city should end the year with a $480,000 balance if appropriations stay within the $970,000 figure.

* * *

Explains Request.

A spokesman for one city department, who asked not to be quoted, explained the reasons for his department seeking a wage boost.

"Although we get $205 a month base pay, this is trimmed to about $180 by taxes which leaves us about $45 a week 'take-home pay.' You can't raise a family on that," he declared.

The $30 petition being circulated in the fire department is to replace one submitted to council in November which asked for a $25 a month boost and a $50 a year clothing allowance. That petition was "received and filed" by council.

Tornadoes, Heavy Snow Leave 8 Dead In Nation

The weatherman mixed a hodge-podge of atmospheric disturbances for the nation today and Mansfield got its share in heavy rain, wind, and unseasonable mercury readings. At least eight deaths were reported in the nation as the result of storms and icy roads and streets.

Snow squalls, followed by much colder weather, were forecast for the Mansfield area tonight and tomorrow, bringing back normal winter conditions as January bows out.

Rainfall totaled one inch in the city area yesterday, last night and up to 11 a. m., today. The mercury climbed to 50 degrees shortly before noon today.

Three tornadoes, striking in quick succession, accounted for five known deaths in the northern Arkansas-southern Missouri region last night and caused uncounted thousands of dollars damage to crops, farm homes and livestock.

A 100-mile-wide belt of snow, freezing rain and sleet moved across Iowa, northern Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and southern Michigan and threatened to continue with little let-up today. Iowa was blanketed by the heaviest snowfall in four years.

3 In Family Killed.

Robert Williams, 35, and three members of his family were killed when a tornado demolished their farm home near Montier, a small southern Missouri community, last night. A son, the sole survivor, crawled to a neighbor's home, a quarter of a mile away, to report the deaths.

About 20 miles to the south, Mrs. Charles Lawson, 60, died and at least six other persons were injured when a 60-mile-an-hour twister ripped through a residential section of Salem, Ark.

Springfield, O., was lashed early today by a wind and rainstorm that halted operations at several industrial plants when power and telephone lines were blown down.

The roof was blown off the home of L. G. Rodemus, Springfield high school's track coach, who reported most of his track squad's equipment, which was stored in the attic, was carried along with the roof.

Perversely, Old Man Winter played favorites and Columbus, with a temperature of 64, St. Louis, with 67.2, and Raleigh, N. C., with 73, reported the warmest Jan. 29 in history.

In contrast to Columbus' balmy 63, Toledo, O., at the other end of the state reported a high of 32 degrees.

Chicagoans, buffeted all day yesterday by a combination of rain, snow and sleet, were further bewildered last night by claps of thunder and lightning.

Two persons died in a storm at Milwaukee, where 13 inches of snow was expected by noon today.

SENATE GETS GEORGIA WHITE PRIMARY BILL

ATLANTA, Ga. —(INS)— Georgia's white primary bill, the number one plank in the state Democratic party's platform, went to the senate today.

The house of representatives, after wrangling over the measure for virtually a week, approved the bill late yesterday by a vote of 133-62.

The stalemate between Georgia's two governors — assembly-elected Herman Talmadge and acting Governor M. E. Thompson—was no nearer settlement. Court action one week from today, however, is expected to give the first hint of the legal attitude toward the feud.

Although the state has an abundance of department heads, there is a distinct scarcity of funds, and employes face a payless payday Saturday.

Payrolls Held Up.

State Treasurer George B. Hamilton refuses to recognize payroll vouchers from either Talmadge or Thompson until the courts hand down their ruling on the squabble.

The house gallery was crowded throughout the debate yesterday on the white primary bill. The solons quoted Bibles, statute books, party rules and various anecdotes to prove their respective points on the bill which would give the state Democratic party the right to determine its own membership.

The bill puts the primary election under control of the state Democratic party, with the Negroes barred from voting on the Democratic ticket.

SUB'S ATOM PROOF

PARIS — (INS) — The Paris newspaper Resistance Matin reported today that the French navy has constructed an "atomic proof" submarine.

MIXUP SNARLS DAHLIA DEATH

Police Still Seeking Killer After 3 Persons Confess to Brutal Murder.

LOS ANGELES —(INS)— Police today appealed to the killer of "the Black Dahlia" to resume communication with them following the expiration of a surrender deadline set in one note purporting to be from the slayer.

In their appeal police pledged the slayer "fair treatment" and a "just trial" if he surrenders.

Police and postal officials maintained a tight check on incoming mail and telephone calls as police crime experts sifted a wierd jumble of notes purporting to be from the killer.

Confessions Bogus.

Police discounted three confusing "confessions" in the case. None of the three persons, a man and two women, told coherent stories.

The three were Daniel S. Voorhees, 33, of Van Nuys; Emily E. Williams, 24, ex-WAC of San Diego, and Mrs. Minnie Sepulveda, 37, Los Angeles.

Police further expressed conviction that only the first of a maze of letters purporting to be from the killer is genuine. That letter, mailed Friday to "the Los Angeles Examiner and other newspapers," contained slain Elizabeth Short's address book, birth certificate, social security card and other personal effects.

Capt. Donahoe issued his surrender appeal following the expiration of the deadline set in a postcard mailed to the Examiner Sunday night.

Promises Surrender.

The postcard, signed by "the Black Dahlia avenger," promised surrender at 10 a. m. yesterday.

In his appeal to the slayer to resume communication with police, Capt. Donahoe sought to eliminate pranksters by proposing that the slayer enclose in his next letter more of the slain girl's personal effects.

Chinese Rail Battle Strands U. S. Forces

SHANGHAI—(AP)—Communist forces in North China cut the vital Peiping-Tientsin railway today, shortly after the announcement that American military units are being withdrawn from China.

The Communists severed, temporarily at least, the route over which U. S. forces must withdraw from Peiping, site of the truce headquarters that will be abandoned with the end of America's long but futile peace efforts.

Associated Press Correspondent John Roderick reported from Tientsin that the railway link was cut at Weishanchuang, about midway between Tientsin and Peiping. Fighting still raged there.

Before the Communists attacked the government's rail artery, American authorities in Peiping discredited reports that the Communists might attack the city before U. S. personnel left.

They asserted the Communists were too weak to take either Peiping or Tientsin, although they could delay or imperil the American withdrawal by damaging the railway—which is just what they did. However, such disruptions ordinarily can be quickly repaired.

It was the first serious Communist attack on the railway, which once was guarded by U. S. Marines, and was different from the sniping and ambushes in which marines were caught several times.

Roderick said the Weishanchuang railway station was burned, a section of track "destroyed," and the attackers were in such force that the government sent up an armored train from Tientsin.

The countryside along the route teems with bands of Communist guerrillas although not equipped or organized for any major offensive.

Observers in Peiping, in common with many in other Chinese cities, were convinced, however, that the withdrawal of all American mediators would invite heavier fighting. They predicted both the government and the Communists would try to make drives in Manchuria and North China.

MINE OWNERS ATTACK FUND

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The soft coal industry prepared today to open an attack in congress against the health and welfare fund John L. Lewis won from the government for his half million miners.

Bituminous operators never have agreed to the fund. It is provided only in the contract which Lewis negotiated last May with Interior Secretary J. A. Krug for the period of federal possession of the soft coal mines.

Anthracite producers negotiated a private agreement with the United Mine Workers setting up such a fund, however, after the government-union soft coal pact went into effect. Both call for a five-cents-a-ton contribution by the industry to a mine welfare fund.

The national coal association now is preparing to ask congress for legislation drastically curbing such funds. The association has requested an opportunity to present testimony before the senate labor committee next month.

Pastors Will End Convention Today

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The four-day Ohio Pastors' convention, attended by some 2,500 delegates, ends today with Pastor Martin Niemoeller, last night's featured speaker, again headlining the program.

The German pastor, who spent eight years in Nazi concentration camps, was scheduled to make addresses to accommodate convention delegates unable to hear his hour-long sermon at Memorial hall last night.

CITY WINS 20TH SPOT IN NATION

Mansfield won second honors in the state and 20th place in the nation today for its 1946 fire prevention and clean-up week campaigns. Word of the high awards was received by the Chamber of Commerce from the National Fire Prevention association.

W. G. Schultz, chairman of the Chamber's Fire Prevention committee and chairman of the Oct. 6 to 13 fire prevention campaign, was elated.

"Mansfield's placement as 20th in the nation among cities of all populations is the most significant honor it has received," Schultz said. "This honor was made possible through the cooperation of the fire department, schools, Boy Scouts, churches and civic organizations who took active part."

Schultz said he also believed that the $132,000 reduction in fire loss last year from 1945 could be credited, in part, to the campaign and clean-up drive.

Cincinnati placed 1st in Ohio for fire prevention work, and Memphis, Tenn., won top honors in the nation.

The first of the prevention committee's major activities this year will be a city-wide spring clean-up drive, Schultz said.

LONDON POWER OFF DURING COLD WAVE

LONDON — (INS) — Bitter cold "blitzed" the heart of London today as electricity was cut off entirely in the central section of the city.

Residents of the capital were virtually without heat and light due to the 100 per cent cut in electricity which became effective for central London this morning.

The unprecedented freezing cold added to discomforts of the populace deprived of both heat and light for the first time since the German raids during the war. The cold wave is the most severe experienced in England in a half-century.

EXAMINER FAVORS FIRM OVER UNION

WASHINGTON— (AP) —Dismissal of a union complaint that the Westinghouse Electric corporation had been guilty of unfair labor practice in discharging an employe at its Ansonia, O., plant was recommended today by trial examiner Victor Hershfield, of the National Labor Relations board.

Hershfield held that the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (CIO), had not proved the company discriminated in discharging Doyt Fouty for "starting rumors."

The company said Fouty had told fellow employes that workers at the Lima, O., plant were receiving higher wages than the Ansonia employes. The firm refused to reinstate Fouty when he reapplied.

LIKE KING'S MEN, RENT GOES UP, DOWN AGAIN

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A short-lived OPA order that would have boosted rent ceilings 10 per cent was chalked off by a high official today as simply a government agency "mix-up."

President Truman scotched the order the minite it "came to the attention of the White House," this official told a reporter, adding:

"It seems to be quite definite there will be no across-the-board increase at this time."

The official, who would not permit use of his name, said the order went from Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming's Office of Temporary Controls to OPA during Fleming's absence from the city.

But just how it happened is "still something of a mystery," the official said.

He explained, however, that an order relaxing rent controls to benefit individual landlord "hardship" cases was being drawn and that the 10 per cent increase plan apparently got into the picture as a possible alternative.

At the end of the confusing chain of events the situation was this:

President Truman still hopes the government can hold the line on rent controls, but is leaving the decision to congress.

Rent ceilings, which have been frozen in many parts of the country since May, 1942, affect some 16,000,000 houses and apartments sheltering 60,000,000 people.

OPA has estimated that a 10 per cent boost in these rents would cost the tenants $576,000,000 a year and jack up the cost of living index 1.8 per cent.

2 BOYS CONFESS WRECKING TRAIN

LOGANSPORT, Ind. — (UP) — Two boys, one 10 and the other 12 years old, were held in custody by Sheriff Harold Smith today after they reportedly admitted causing a passenger train wreck which killed four persons.

Sheriff Smith said the boys confessed placing a 175-pound bale of fencing wire on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at nearby Walton Monday night.

The sheriff said the youths told him they rolled the wire bundle onto the tracks "to see what would happen."

The locomotive and six cars of "The Union," a Cincinnati-to-Chicago train, were derailed when the wheels of the engine were fouled by the wire.

Three passengers and the train fireman died in the smashup. Twenty-three other passengers were injured.

The boys told the sheriff they took the wire bundle from a stack of fencing near the tracks.

SOLON SEEKS PAY HIKE FOR OHIO OFFICIALS

House Orders Study of State Expenditures, Revenue to Check Spending.

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The Ohio senate headed for a new attempt today to grant quick salary boosts to appointive state officials, while the house started to count its spending money for the next two years.

Sen. E. E. Addison (R., Franklin) said he would sponsor a bill to grant the raises in the hope it would be cleared by the senate Monday and by the house in time to benefit appointees taking office in February.

His measure proposed annual salary increases of board of tax appeals members from $5,000 to $6,000; tax commissioner from $6,500 to $9,000; public utilities commissioners from $6,000 to $9,000; liquor board members from $4,500 to $5,000, and liquor director from $6,500 to $9,000.

Addison explained that officials whose pay was fixed by statute could not receive raises granted during their immediate terms but expressed belief such boosts to newly appointed officials would stick.

An earlier senate plan to seek legislative approval this week of such pay raises was abandoned when house leaders said they would need at least two weeks to clear the proposal.

The senator indicated he had received the green light for his bill which omitted reference to the administrator of the bureau of unemployment compensation, whose term expires next month.

Another proposal to hike the tax commissioner's salary to $12,000 a year, and that of board of tax appeals members to $10,000, also is before the senate.

Money Worries House.

The house of representatives had several words to say about money—prompted by demands for new millions in appropriations.

A group headed by Rep. Paul H. Ballard (R., Jackson), finance committee chairman, was named to draft a report showing state expenditures the past two years and anticipated revenues for the current biennium.

Other members were Reps Griffith Evans (R., Portage), William L. Manahan (R., Defiance), Walter L. Tarr (R., Hamilton) and Ray M. White (D., Holmes).

"Opinion seems to prevail that the great state of Ohio has some yet undisclosed, never failing fountain of cash supplied by some mysterious source of an unlimited nature," read the resolution creating the committee.

Ballard told the house he believed "a lot of people are being kidded about the amount of money they are going to get for various purposes."

Rep. James J. Barton (R., Cuyahoga) called for approval of legislation permitting voters to change the state constitution to spare Ohio the problem of two governors such as pesters Georgia.

The proposal designated the lieutenant governor to succeed to the governorship. In event the governor-elect and lieutenant governor-elect both died before inauguration, a joint session of the senate and house immediately would select an acting governor until a special election could be held to fill the office

PETER IS ALL EARS

Kitty the Catbird usually spends winter way down in the Land-of-always-summer which we call Central America, but this winter had remained near his summer home. He was trying to tell Peter Rabbit the difference between the Green Forest up here and the Green Forest down there.

"In the Jungle," began Kitty.

"What is the Jungle?" demanded Peter.

"Why—why—it is the Green Forest down there," replied Kitty.

"Then why didn't you say so?" asked Peter somewhat crossly.

"Because down there everybody calls it Jungle, and while down there it takes the place of the Green Forest, up here, it is different, so I guess that is why it is called Jungle," explained Kitty.

"How different?" asked Peter. He was all ears. You know that is what they say of people who listen closely to what others are saying.

"I have told you that they are kinds that you never have seen and that some of them have wonderful flowering plants growing on them, but you didn't believe that," said Kitty.

Peter admitted that it had been hard to believe, but if Kitty said it was so he would believe it was so. "Of course I have seen moss growing on the trunks of trees and I suppose that if moss can grow there other plants can just as you say, but I don't see how. Did you say they have flowers?" said he.

"The most wonderful flowers in all the Great World grow on these plants that grow on trees in the Jungle, but of course, you don't believe that," declares Kitty. He mean orchids.

"I'm trying to," said Peter.

"I should try to tell you about the vines that grow in the Jungle and climb up the trees and from tree to tree and twist around each other, you wouldn't believe that either," Kitty went on, just as if Peter had not spoken.

"I would so," declared Peter. "Vine climbing trees are nothing new to me. I know where there is a biggest grapevine climbing way up in a tall tree on the edge of the Green Forest. What are you chucklin about?"

"You and your biggest grapevine," chuckled Kitty. "I know the one you mean. I know all the vines around here. Down in the Land-of-always-summer folks would think the biggest vine you've ever seen had only just begun to grow. Under the trees and the vines all sorts of plants grow so fast you can almost see them grow. And they are just as crowded as brambles and bushes are here in the Old Briar-patch. Unless paths are kept open the way you keep your private little paths cut it is hard work for some big folks to get about there."

"I guess it isn't any harder than it is for big folks to get around here in the Old Briar-patch where the bramble-tangles are thickest," said Peter.

Kitty admitted that this was so. Peter decided that the Jungle must be a sort of giant briar-patch with giant trees and vines, and said so. Kitty didn't know how to make it any clearer to one who never had seen any of the trees and plants and vines that grow in the Land-of-always-summer, and gave up trying to.

"You should see some of the people who live there," said he by way of changing the subject.

"I've heard about some of them," said Peter. "I always heard that Prickly Porky the Porcupine had a cousin with a long tail with no little spears on it, but I've never quite believed it."

Kitty nodded. "I've seen him," said he.

"And Bobby Coon has a long-nosed, long-tailed cousin," said Peter.

"I've seen him too. They call hom Coati Mundi," replied Kitty. "Unc' Billy Possum has a cousin down there. He looks like Unc' Billy, only his tail is longer."

"Are there any Rabbits with long tails?" asked Peter.

M'GREGOR BACKS EQUAL DEFENSE

Congressman J. Harry McGregor has introduced in congress a bill to require that defense counsel for persons to be tried by military or naval courts martial be of the same or higher grade than that of the prosecuting officer.

Aimed at equalizing the legal chances of accused GIs, the bill would assure defendants of a fair and equal trial and would bring about more justice in court martial proceedings, McGregor said.

McGregor, representative of the 17th Ohio district which includes Richland county, recently has been assigned as a member of the house committee on public works. Under the reorganization bill, this group incorporates the former committees on public buildings and grounds, rivers and harbors, flood control and roads.

McGregor has been elected chairman of the sub-committee of public works which will handle all legislation formerly under the jurisdiction of the public buildings and grounds committee. He has also been appointed by the speaker of the house as Republican whip of the east central states which include Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland, Tennessee and Kentucky.

3—In Memoriam

IN MEMORY of my daughter, R. Pearl Shively, who passed away 1 year ago today, Jan. 30th.
Gone but not forgotten.
Sadly missed by her mother, Mrs. Mary Shively and Brothers.

IN MEMORY of our mother and grandmother, Emma Belle Rinehart, who passed away one year ago, Jan 30, 1946.
Like a ship that has left its mooring
And sails bravely out to sea,
So some one dear has gone away
In calm serenity.
Our family circle has been broken,
A link gone from our chain:
But tho' we're parted for awhile,
We know we'll meet again.
Some day we hope to meet you
Some day, we know not when
We shall meet in a better land
And never part again.
Children and Grandchildren.

Try and Stop Me

—By Bennett Cerf

The new teacher in the Brooklyn grade school smiled at the upturned faces of the little darlings before her. "Who," she asked, "can tell me about Dutch Guiana?

Johnny was on his feet in a flash. "I know, Teacher. He was a mobster wit de Five Points outfit and Dewey sent him upup for twenty years!"

"You wouldn't believeere it," boasted the burly wrestler... "but I only weighed three and ee one-quarter pounds when I was ff born."

"The heck you did," saiddid his opponent. "Did you live?"

"Did I live! Say feller,m, you ought to see me now."

"My feet," confided the mailman, as he completed the appointed rounds from which nor snow nor rain etc. could keep him, "my feet are so darn tired I swear I am walking from memory."

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, JANUARY 30, 1947

The week starting February 3, has been designated as National Onion week—and strong support is expected.

Tomorrow winds up January—and any New Year's resolutions that have lasted through this long should be pretty well set.

Smallest scrapbook on record is that devoted to commendation of Bilbo, the only entry thus far being a paragraph to the effect that he stood his recent operation well.

Extreme Labor Legislation Unlikely

WHILE there has been considerable talk about the possibility of "drastic" labor legislation, present likelihood is that there will be nothing of the sort during the present session of congress, and that whatever is done will be no more than a mild effort to abolish strikes based on jurisdictional disputes and prevent work stoppages in public utilities which serve cities and surrounding areas.

There has been an overwhelming demand in congress for labor legislation, but the urge for some kind of action is about the only common ground reached thus far and various proposals almost equal the number of congressmen.

There will be many delays and much argument before any kind of labor legislation reaches the voting stage, and extremists seem destined to be gradually shoved into the background—with next year's presidential election probably exerting a stronger influence on legislators than last year's strikes.

Hearings by the senate labor committee are scheduled to extend to March 1, which means that a labor bill will probably not be in readiness before the middle of April. Allowing a month for floor battles on whatever bill may finally be evolved, it is likely to be mid-May before a labor bill reaches the White House—with at least a possibility of being vetoed.

It would be admittedly difficult to muster the two-thirds majorities necessary to pass a labor bill over the president's veto, although much will depend, of course, on the trend of negotiations between labor unions and management during the next few weeks and appearance of ability to avoid a repetition of last year's disastrous strikes.

Young Man Succeeds Young Man

WITHOUT having the slightest idea of how he will measure up to the requirements of the job, The News-Journal welcomes Emmett L. Morgan into Mansfield's official family and extends best wishes for his success in the responsible—and sometimes difficult—position of service-safety director.

Judged by his picture, and by the record of his past experience, snap judgment would be that Emmett is a thoughtful, studious, energetic and ambitious young man and it is from such traits that above-average ability can most reasonably be expected.

At the age of 32, and as a veteran of World War II, the training and discipline gained in three years of navy service should prove valuable in grasping the details of this new work, as should also his study of industrial traffic management and engineering.

It is a confidence-inspiring thought that Emmett recognizes the directorship as "a big job," and that he plans to use caution until he "gets his feet on the ground."

That's a good idea in connection with any new job, especially where public service is involved and in which unanticipated snares sometimes present themselves. Capability and honesty are reasonably expected of persons holding public office, either elective or appointive—but if emphasis is to be placed upon one above the other of these qualities, it would be on honesty.

To the retiring service-safety director, "Bill" Enlow, a word of appreciation for a year's excellent work on a nerve-racking job, and a hope that opportunities of the future will measure up to the impression of capability that has been gained from observation of your progress from early boyhood into young manhood.

Hotel Fires Bring Precautionary Hints

AFTER a major hotel fire, or wave of such fires as occurred earlier this winter, there is a counter-wave of investigations and warnings to hotel guests. Then the interest dies until another tragedy comes along.

When and where the tragedy will strike next no one would attempt to guess. On the hotel stationery of the Winecoff in Atlanta, where 119 persons met their fate, were the words "Absolutely Fireproof." Often where the sense of security is greatest, danger is hardest.

It might be well, then, to paste in your hat or store in your brain certain rules of safety which have been devised by experts studying hotel fires. They are published by the National Board of Fire Underwriters and can be summed up as follows:

Always know where the emergency exits are, if there are any, as soon as you check in.

Don't smoke in bed. Use the ash tray on the floor or the waste basket.

If you smell smoke, call the desk, close the door immediately, and plan your exit calmly.

Feel the door before you open it. If it does not feel hot, open it slightly. Brace your foot against the door, hold your head away, and test the incoming air with your hand. If the hallway seems safe, follow your exit plan.

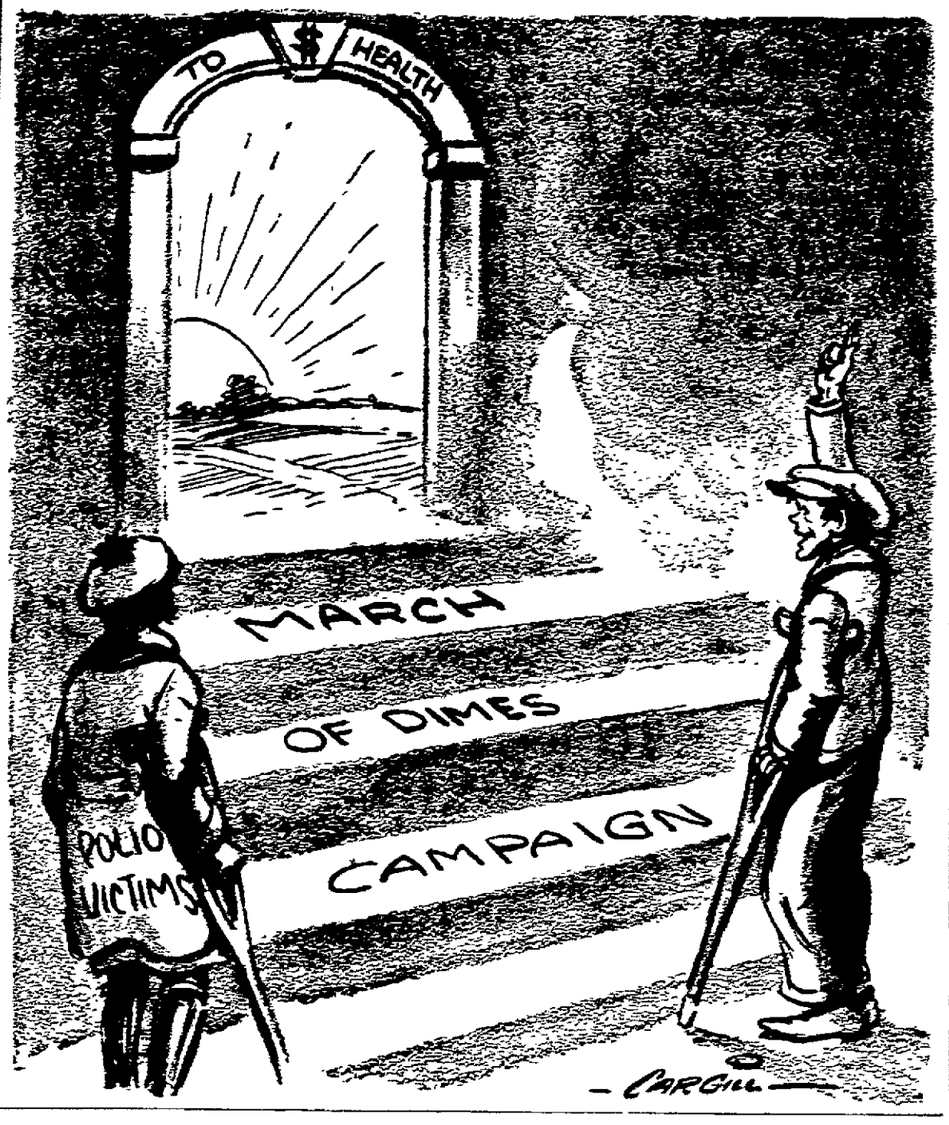
If the hallway is unsafe, close the door and block all openings through which smoke might enter, using wet towels, blankets and the like.

Open the window slightly and stay near it. Don't jump. Many lives have been saved by breaking openings for gasps from the hall, and calmly awaiting rescue.

A nine-year-old Oakland, Calif., boy ran away from home and went to Reno, where he explained that he wanted "a divorce from his parents"—marvelous how quickly children find out about things.

An observer predicts that a drop of $2.50 in white shirt prices "is seen in the near offing"—arousing hope that a $2 shirt may soon be available for around $4.

EVERY DIME AND DOLLAR WILL HELP THEM



Many Books About FDR Reflect Special Periods and Interests

By RAYMOND MOLEY

THE 65th anniversary of the birth of Franklin D. Roosevelt reminds us again of the flood of books about him, which have appeared since his death. A dozen or so come to mind at once. Many more are on the way.

It is a trite thing to say that an authoritative history will not appear for a generation. It is truer to assert that the final, authoritative book will never appear. That hasn't happened yet in the case of George Washington or Napoleon, for controversy begets controversy, legends beget legends.

Fifty years from now, people will argue hotly about F.D.R. Was he good for us or bad? The answer is that he was good for some of us, and bad for others.

And since we are not all alike, we will never weigh with precision those matters in which we have special interests.

In the past year we have had several books of personal reminiscences. These all have value in throwing light on special incidents. Some are designed to highlight a circumstance in which the author has a particular, perhaps a proper concern.

In the case of Rear T. McIntire's "White House Physician," there is a legitimate matter of professional and personal ethics. Dr. McIntire makes it clear that warnings—perhaps all the warnings a doctor can offer—were given to the patient. And the patient brushed them aside.

The blame, if blame there is, for the fact that the nation elected a man who was too exhausted to serve another term, rests on those politicians who urged him to run for reasons of their own. It also rests on the men who violently attacked those who suggested that a candidate's health was a legitimate matter for discussion and on the voters of the nation.

The doctor did all he could. Ethically, his responsibility was to his patient, and he performed the duty of giving a solemn warning.

Miss Frances Perkins tells much that is interesting. She speaks in almost boundless admiration. And, in view of the many criticisms which fell on her in office, she defends herself as well as her chief.

Elliott Roosevelt has written a selective account of his father's utterances, which may well be approximately accurate. But in the selection of material, he has doubtless prepared a defense of policies he himself intends to follow in his own career.

Rex Tugwell, whom I know to be an honest man, regrets that F.D.R. did not go farther to the left. We may not agree with Tugwell, but we learn from him something about the tendency of F.D.R. to seem to agree and then to leave a loyal follower out on an ideological limb.

A new book, "Franklin D. Roosevelt: An Informal Biography," by Alden Hatch, is the most readable of all. His treatment is energetic and, so far as I know, his facts are accurate and his judgments fair.

The books on the Roosevelt administration which are to come—and they are legion—must be taken with the reservations expressed above. They are written to defend some aspect of the writer's public record or in the light of a limited view of the subject, or are limited to a special part of the Roosevelt history.

Perhaps it should be added that some are written for the proper purpose of making money, although only Jim Farley, to date, has frankly and honestly said so.

Of many of the Roosevelt books, the unkind comment may be made which someone voiced about Joseph P. Tumulty's book, "Woodrow Wilson As I Knew Him." That comment was that the book, written by as loyal and badly treated a friend as Wilson ever had, should have been titled, "Woodrow Wilson As He Knew Me."

Perhaps many Roosevelt books yet to come might be called, "The Roosevelt Who Knew Me."

Twin daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Molaski, 60 Grace street, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Craig, 424 Louise avenue.

St. Peter's court, Catholic Order of Foresters, held class initiation, followed by banquet at Southern hotel.

Lewis N. Fry, 63, died at his home, 152 Harker street.

Walter Shellhouse, South Mulberry street, suffered dislocated shoulder in fall at Casino park.

Richland county chapter, Izaak Walton League, sought motion picture projector and planned to show pictures of outdoor life at meetings.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

On Jan. 30, 1666, Denmark proclaimed the sale of the West Indian islands of St. Thomas and St. John to the United States.

Dave Boone Says:

WHAT a great story there was in the rescue of Grace Moore, found in that Copenhagen air crash! From what is called "Slantown" in the Great Smoky mountains of Tennessee where she was a singer in a little country church choir she conquered continents by her voice and charm.

* * *

She came to New York unknown, lived in furnished rooms and knew the struggles of so many kids in the big town before fate caught her up and swept her to the Metropolitan and to fame and fortune.

In these days when the papers are full of stories of amusement-world couples running out on each other for trivial reasons, the devotion of Grace Moore to her husband, ill for years, was an inspiring thing.

More Quibbling Over Atomic Bomb Control.

WASHINGTON—Once again an old issue has cropped up here over the extent of civilian and military control of the atomic bomb and atomic development.

This, it was thought, was settled by the last congress when it passed the McMahon bill that established civilian control in a five-man civilian commission, after considerable controversy.

This was in keeping with the policy enunciated by President Truman. Provision was made for liaison with the military services.

Now the issue has been reopened. This became clear when Republican leaders including Senators Vandenberg (Mich.) and Millikin, Colo., criticized David Lilienthal, chairman of the atomic energy commission, for not having a military man at their meetings and insisted that this be done henceforth.

This occurred during the appearance of Mr. Lilienthal before the atomic energy committee of the senate in connection with his nomination as head of the commission that must be confirmed by the senate along with nominations of the four other commissioners.

The reason had not been interpreted by Mr. Lilienthal, nor by the commission to mean that a military man must attend their sessions. The chairman frankly did not believe this was the best policy in carrying out the McMahon Act through he assured the committee that the military would be kept informed at all times.

From the tenor of discussion at the committee session, it was obvious that the military again is seeking to edge its way into the picture though definitely removed by act of congress from the major role in the commission it originally sought.

Scientists who had worked on the bomb project were influential in the successful campaign for civilian control. They were hampered considerably in their work during the war by rigid military control when all experimentation was compartmentalized. While this was understandable in war though resented by some scientists they did not want to see it carried over into peace.

Because of the continued strict military control many scientists left the project after the war. Privately, they are complaining again about possible resumption of the sort of control exercised then.

This is most important. For unless scientists, and the best, do continue and co-operate, this country might find itself outdated in atomic development. This applies to military uses as well as civilian uses to which great attention henceforth is to be devoted.

Sooner or later it is realized, other nations will develop the atomic bomb, unless international control is soon adopted to outlaw it. Unless our scientists can be relatively free to progress with their work, and keep the United States ahead, this becomes vital in the strictly military sense, for the military can defeat its own purpose by interfering with the scientists and retarding development.

In his senate speech Senator McMahon (D., Conn., sponsor of the atomic energy act) made this pertinent observation:

"There is nothing we can do to prevent others from learning how to make atomic bombs because the Book of Nature is open to all.

There is not a single scientist in the whole country who does not acknowledge this as an accepted fact. We could hide our so-called secrets in the deepest vault at Fort Knox and shoot all our scientists and other natures will still learn how to make atomic bombs."

Bloodshed Narrowly Escaped In 'Putsch' By Talmadge Hoodlums

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—These Georgian who increased his stature in the current undemocratic political tug of war now raging over the state capitol in Atlanta is ex-Governor Ellis Arnall.

Only a handful of people know it, but Arnall witnessed lynched the night Herm Talmadge staged his power "putsch." Arnall knew his life was in danger, yet he refused to call for help.

For four hours he remained quietly in a tiny corner office of the capitol, rejecting pleas that he call out the troops to protect himself. Arnall had only seven people with him in his office to ward off an angry mob howling Talmadgites calling for his head.

Once they burst in the door, got their hands on his cloth, sought to jerk him out of the room. Calmly, Arnall persuaded them to go back. Finally, Assistant Attorney General Dan Duke and State Guard Commander Collins urged Arnall to send for the troops.

"No," replied Arnall. "This thing cannot be decided by force. The people are the only ones who can decide it. It may be some time before the people learn the truth about what's happening here tonight, but learn it they will. If we use troops there'll be bloodshed and that will play into the pretenders' hand. It will bring shame on the people of Georgia."

Those who were with Arnall consider it a miracle that he wasn't subjected to physical violence. His own secretary wound up in the hospital after fighting off the Talmadge hoodlums. Next day, Arnall's friends tried to assign bodyguards to protect him, but he rejected the offer.

"I'll walk with the plain people on the streets of Atlanta," he said. "I've nothing to fear from them. I'm one of them. The plain people always help each other."

American Legion's Lily.

All veterans organizations are supposed to be interested in housing, but an interesting note on the American Legion's position occurred the other day when Legion Lobbyist John Thos. Taylor kicked a Veteran of Foreign Wars representative out of a meeting while permitting real estate lobbyists to remain. The Legion long has been accused of playing hand-in-glove with the real estate boys, especially when it came to sabotaging Wm. Wyatt's far-sighted housing program.

Latest demonstration of harmony between the Legion and the real estate interests came at a housing meeting in the Statler hotel here. Wesley Peace, VFW housing officer, showed up at the meeting, thinking it was open to the public and chatted in the corridor for a few minutes with Arthur Marcus, a member of the Legion's seven-man, World War II veterans housing committee.

"Is it all right for me to come in?" asked Pearce.

"Sure, come on in and make yourself at home," replied Marcus. "I'm pretty sure the meeting is open to everybody."

Pearce explained that he might be able to pick up some new ideas to help house; so Marcus escorted him in and the two men swapped stories about their experiences in the army.

Next thing Pearce knew, Legion lobbyist John Thomas Taylor was pointing in his direction and sputtering furiously.

"Get him out of here!" he shouted.

Another Legion official who thought that Taylor was acting impulsively tried to dissuade him, but Taylor continued to storm.

"I don't care!" he yelled. "I'm running this meeting and want him out of here." Turning again to Pearce, Taylor demanded angrily:

"Don't you know you're in a closed session?"

"I'm sorry. I thought it was open," apologized Pearce as he left the room.

Behind him in the walled closed meeting remained a number of real estate lobbyists including Frank Coaterigh, vice-president of the National Association of Home Builders.

Newsprint Monopoly

Conclusive evidence of conspiracy to jack up the price of newsprint to American newspapers over a long period of years is contained in a federal trade commission report now being studied by the senate small business committee.

The report shows how the big paper companies, most of them operating in Canada but partly controlled by American bankers, have illegally put their heads together to charge the same price for newsprint and to keep the price high. One of the great hazards of a free and competitive American press today is the difficulty of getting newsprint.

The FTC report especially cites the International Paper company which, although Canadian operated, is dominated by the Phipps family of Colorado and by the Chase National bank. The Phipps family in turn is closely allied with the Rockefellers.

Shortly after the last war, the justice department indicted the newsprint cartel and secured a consent decree that they cease monopoly practices. The federal trade commission's report, made for the attorney-general, covers the period up to 1939 and shows that the cartel has pretty much gone back to its monopoly operation except that it keeps its books, offices, etc., in Canada out of reach of the justice department.

The justice department's anti-trust division is now engaged in a quiet probe of the newsprint cartel, but officials said they were handicapped by the fact that companies had carefully kept their records in Canada. Justice department officials added, however, they had no reason to believe there had been any change of conditions described in the FTC's report.

This report, incidentally, was kept confidential until Senator Murray of Montana, recently demoted head of the small business committee, ferreted it out and demanded that it be published. Federal Trade officials demurred for fear the newsprint industry's friends in congress would slash their funds in retaliation. Senator Wherry, of Nebraska, who has succeeded Murray as small business chairman, still has not decided whether to publish the newsprint report, though this column probably will force it into the open.

When Partisanship Influences Courts.

WASHINGTON—The portal-to-portal pay issue has focussed attention on the curious role of the federal courts under our system of government as nothing has done in a long time. A single decision, upheld by the Supreme Court, can jeopardize our entire economy.

The treasury has assured industry that nearly half the cost of meeting portal-to-portal claims will be paid for out of tax deductions. This could well put a burden of several billion dollars on the federal government.

And it requires no financial expert to see what that would mean when we have a debt of nearly $260,000,000,000. Such a burden could throw all budget calculations out of kilter and put a severe strain on the whole system of federal financing.

These are the realities which Federal Judge Frank A. Picard seemed blindly to ignore in his decision in the Mount Clemens, Mich., pottery workers' case. It is not to be wondered at that Attorney General Tom C. Clark took the unusual step of intervening as "friend of the court" to urge the judge to reconsider.

There could hardly be a better example than the Mount Clemens case of what happens when judges step beyond their judicial functions to usurp the duties of administrator and law-maker. Under our constitution, there is nothing to prevent the federal judiciary, and in particular the Supreme Court, from making itself into a kind of upper chamber of the legislature, a sort of house of lords sitting in judgment on the rightness or wrongness of legislation adopted by the congress.

We saw this in the early '30s when a politically conservative majority dominated the Supreme Court. It was then that a great and courageous judge, the late Harlan Fiske Stone, in dissent after dissent rebuked his fellow justices for writing their own personal economic and social predilections into law.

Later when he was chief justice, Stone saw the development of another majority with a different political slant and again he dissented, with the judicial conscience that was one of his great characteristics.

Forty years ago, another great judge spoke words of wisdom that touch the portal-to-portal issue more directly than almost anything that has been said in the current controversy.

In 1908, Charles Evans Hughes, now a retired chief justice, was running for re-election as governor of New York. Regulation of utilities was under debate. Hughes' opponent, a business man, advocated the right to appeal matters of fact, as contrasted to questions of law, to the courts. In a speech at Elmira, N. Y., Hughes replied:

"I have the highest regard for the courts. My whole life has been spent in work conditioned upon respect for the courts. I reckon him one of the worst enemies of the community who will talk lightly of the dignity of the bench. We are under a constitution and the constitution is what the judges say it is, and the judiciary is the safeguard of our liberty and of our property under the constitution. I do not want to see any direct assault upon the courts, nor do I want to see any indirect assault upon the courts.

"And I tell you, ladies and gentlemen, no more insidious assault could be made upon the independence and esteem of the judiciary than to burden it with these questions of administration—questions which lie close to the public interest, and in regard to which the people are going to insist on having administration by officers directly accountable to them.

"Let us keep the courts for the questions they were intended to consider. When questions of property rights are involved—when the constitutional right to hold property and not to be deprived of it without due process of law is involved; when, under the guise of regulation or authority to supervise railroad management, there is an assumption of arbitrary power not related to public convenience; when there is a real judicial question—let the courts have it and every good citizen will stand aside and hope to see it decided fairly and with even-handed justice."

Shortly after he became chairman of the senate judiciary committee, Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin made an extraordinary statement. He said there were too many Democrats on the federal bench and it was high time to put some Republicans there.

This seemed to be saying in so many words that the judiciary is nothing more than an upper chamber of the legislature.

The answer is not to balance Democrats with Republicans. It is to try to find men for the federal judiciary who will put the law above partisanship in the great tradition of the late Chief Justice Stone.

Calvin A. Byers

Farmer's Diary: "Thankful American."

I WAS in the home of a garbage collector, one evening lately at near suppertime. He lives in a meager four-room cottage, outside the city limits. The tall ruddy man, himself, opened the door and invited me to enter. He suggested in a broad foreign accent that I take a chair near the base burner, where glowing coals and occasionally flame were visible through the many faces of isinglass.

In the kitchen adjoining, his wife was busy putting food on the table. Unfamiliar odors. Smoked sausage seasoned generously with garlic. Bowls of hot porridge at each place. A round loaf of heavy-crusted bread that she cut in thick slices.

The two children, a boy of about six and a girl of three, impatiently waited to taste the food. The table was covered with a figured oilcloth, and the heavy dishes and silver were arranged in order. Right in the exact center, as what appeared to be a climax of it all, was a vase with three red and three white roses. The green stems seemed more complete with two branches of lacy fern set between.

"You're seeing the roses," he said proudly and smiled. "We have cut flowers on our table all the time since we came to this city. Just for a dollar a week, we have them fresh four times. You see, I collect from the flower shop, and that man, he's my friend. He said 'Do you like flowers' and I said 'You bet,' and so I get all kinds. Supper no good without em now any more. The children grow up to love 'em."

"You're an immigrant?"

"Sure. In the old country we were poor—that was 25 years back. The people that had money called us names—like swine, no good and smelly. We knew we wasn't. We was clean, only we didn't have money. From a little boy I read and dreamed about America. My uncle who was here already made me a bargain. If I would work for him six months, he would send my passage money. 'Good old uncle,' I say, and I come when I was 18. Here I get good wage, I pay for this house, and build it all myself. The banker, he puts his white hand on my shoulder and says my account is growing. The preacher calls on me, too, and all the neighbors, they say good morning when I go out to work.

"No place ever had as much to give the stranger as America! Here we raise up our children, and maybe more if we hope, and we send 'em through high school with the same chance as any other American boy and girl. Our leek and garlic we do not make so strong when they get older. It brings health though for the little fellows, and drives off colds and distemper.

"Our kitchen smells like the old country here tonight. It's kinda comforting and makes us thankful to live in America where a man can be himself. Come out in the shed, and I'll show you the tools I advertised. Farming makes us friends already, ain't it so?"

TROOPS SEEK KIDNAP GANG IN PALESTINE

British Banker Freed After Rough Time as Hostage of Terrorists.

JERUSALEM — (INS) — British troops swarmed over the Jewish suburbs of Jerusalem at dawn today in search for underground fighters who treated a British banker "very badly" while holding him hostage some 78 hours.

H. A. I. Collins, the banker who formerly was an army major, was released late last night shortly after expiration of a British ultimatum to Jewish extremists threatening martial law if he was not freed.

He was immediately hospitalized, suffering from bruises about the face and severe burns about the neck and throat as a result of chloroform used during his abduction on Sunday.

While recovering from his harrowing experience, Collins provided British security officers with a clue as to the hideout of his captors. He said he had been kept in a cave near Jerusalem.

Collins was the second of two hostages, taken by the Jewish underground, to be released. They were kidnaped by Irgun Zvai Leumi members, in a move to prevent the execution of one of their condemned colleagues.

Though Collins was extremely weak and semi-conscious when released, hospital authorities said he was "not seriously ill."

An earlier report that Collins had been released at the same time as Judge Ralph Windham proved erroneous.

BUS HITS TRUCK

COLUMBIA CITY, Ind.—(AP)—The driver of a Greyhound bus was injured fatally and about a score of passengers were hurt less seriously yesterday when the Pittsburgh-to-Chicago bus ran into the rear of a stalled tractor-trailer five miles east of here.

BRAKEMAN DECAPITATED

IRONTON —(INS)— A Norfolk and Western brakeman, Elby Davis of Sciotoville, was decapitated yesterday when he fell under the wheels of a moving railroad car in Ironton yards.

17 FOUND DEAD

BOGOTA—(INS)—Seventeen persons, all those aboard the ill-fated Avianca airliner which crashed in the mountainous jungles of Columbia a week ago, were found dead yesterday. A rescue party finaly succeeded in fighting its way through the dense jungle and swamps to the scene of the crash.

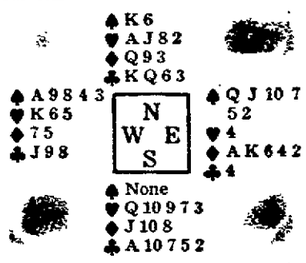
Barclay On Bridge

If one opponent had made a suit bid against you, his partner is pretty likely to lead that one against a contract by your side in another suit. That is a good point to have in mind if you are able to stick the ultimate declaration into either of two suits—one of which would have you as the declarer and the other your partner. It can sometimes be the guide to a beautifully successful bid.



(Dealer: West. Both sides vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♥	1 ♠	4 ♥
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	5 ♣

Both opponents passed that because they thought they might set it and doubted their own ability to make a contract that high. They were right, as in 5-Spades they would lose three tricks to the heart and club aces and the spade K.

There was one very pretty bid in that sequence, however. It was South's 5-Clubs. It resulted in his scoring a game for his side instead of getting set. After the hand he explained the logic of it.

"If West became the leader, as he did, he was virtually certain to open his partner's suit of spades," he said. "That suited me fine. So I bid the 5-Clubs in the hope that my partner would have a fit for the suit and pass, which he did. If I had made the expected bid of 5-Hearts, East would have been the leader, and there was a possibility that he might have had a good diamond defense which would beat us, since he bid first and probably had the stronger hand. Actually his diamond tops and a ruff by West would have beaten a heart contract as high as five."

West dutifully led the A of his partner's spades, which South ruffed. Trumps were taken out, hearts finessed and South's fifth heart furnished a diamond discard from the dummy. Thus no tricks were lost except two in diamonds.

PRAISES CITY'S NAVY PROGRAM

Mansfield was praised yesterday for the part the city is playing in the U. S. naval reserve program.

The praise came from Capt. F. F. Knachel, USNR, Indianapolis Brigade commander, who spoke before the Mansfield Optimist club at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

"I am proud to say that the state of Ohio has the greatest post-war naval reserve set-up of any state in the union," Capt. Knachel said.

"Mansfield's Division 195, organized naval reserve, is putting the name of Mansfield on the map. It used to be that the navy belonged to the coastal cities of Amer... Today, the inland cities, like throughout Ohio, are most vital to the success of the naval reserve program.

"The post-war naval reserve is not being established as an instrument of agression," Capt. Knachel emphasized. "It is in the hopes that by being prepared we can prevent a future war that we have given the recruitment of a 1,000,000-man navy largely based on reserves, number one priority.

"The reserves ask so little and they give so much," Capt. Knachel concluded. "With the help, the cooperation of the civic clubs here and throughout the nation we hope to succeed in our program."

Lt. Cmdr. A. E. Heiser, in charge of the V-6 inactive reserve recruiting program during Naval Reserve week in Mansfield, introduced Capt. Knachel.

Home-Mixed Syrup Relieves Coughs Quickly

Saves Big Dollars. So Easy! No Cooking.

A real surprise awaits you, in your own kitchen, for the relief of coughs due to colds. You can easily mix a cough syrup that gives you about 4 times as much for your money.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. No cooking needed—it's no trouble at all. Then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a pint bottle. Fill up with your syrup, and you have a full pint of wonderful cough medicine. It never spoils, lasts a long time, and children love it.

This mixture takes right hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and quickly eases soreness and difficult breathing.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for quick action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way. —Adv.

U.S. ATTEMPTS TO OVERCOME ATOM TROUBLE

Austin Plans Informal Talks With Members of Security Council on Problem.

LAKE SUCCESS N. Y.—(INS)—The United States moved today to break the existing deadlock in the security council on procedure over atomic controls and global disarmament by sounding out the viewpoints of the other ten delegates.

Warren R. Austin, principal American representative, opened the first round of informal talks on the subject with other council members today and will be assisted by Herschel V. Johnson, his deputy.

It is understood on good authority that the United States, if reluctantly is ready to drop its insistence that the atomic energy commission's report be debated before general disarmament. Indications are that a majority of the council delegates favor a compromise procedure in which the two issues are considered concurrently.

Baruch Plan Unchanged.

Sources close to Austin stressed that, even if the United States abandons its efforts to have atomic control discussed exclusively, its support of the Baruch plan remains unchanged.

Austin in recent pronouncements in Washington revealed that he is strongly in favor of relying on strong American armed forces until disarmament and atomic controls have been completely made effective. Predictions at Lake Success are that he will be a hard bargainer from now on, and can be expected to seek some sort of compensation for yielding on the atomic control priority.

The intensely busy headquarters at Lake Success had a slight pause today when conferees limited themselves to only the economic and social commission. The human rights commission, after appointing sub-commissions to work on the bill of rights and press freedom, journeyed to Hyde Park to commemorate the late President Roosevelt's birthday. Chief hostess and guide will be its chairman, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

ARRIVING IN RENO, after running away from his Oakland, Cal., home, Melvin Lewin jr., aged 9, amazed police officials by announcing that he had "come to get a divorce from his parents." Melvin, who "stowed away" on a bus, said he figured going to live with an aunt in Chicago because his parents "never take me anywhere." (International)

Tenant and Landlord In Court Fight

CHICAGO—(AP)—A rooming house tenant charged Wednesday that his landlord held him prisoner for five days. The landlord said the tenant locked himself in. The CPA said it would investigate.

Meanwhile, both the landlord and the tenant filed complaints charging each other with disorderly conduct. CPA officials said the tenant, Everett Richards, 45, unemployed electrician, came home six nights ago and found a padlock on his door, so he climbed in the window.

Police said Richards wrenched his back and couldn't get out. After five days of seclusion he typed a long special delivery letter to the OPA and tossed it out the window to a newsboy, asking him to mail it. The letter said in part:

"By the time you receive this message I will have been a prisoner of my landlord for six nights and more than five days. I have heard of your office forcing landlords to remove locks where they had tenants locked out, so I trust you may take as much interest where someone is locked in, especially since sanitation, starvation and the possibility of fire are involved."

The OPA termed the case "unusual."

The landlord, Emma Sammek, had a different version. He said he locked Richards out, not in, because his tenant owed him $6 in rent. He said the padlock stayed on the door only two days. And he said Richards was in no danger of "starvation" because he had an ice box full of food in his room.

Red Cross Water Safety Director Resigns Post

FREDERICK BARDSLEY

Frederick Bardsley, Red Cross staff member, has resigned as water safety, first aid and accident prevention head, effective Friday, Frank Elias, chapter chairman, announced today.

Bardsley, who came to Mansfield directly from naval service, leaves the Richland county chapter on the first anniversary of his association with the organization.

During his year here, he has been credited with "pepping up" first aid programs to the extent that 500 children throughout Mansfield and Richland county are members of classes in this course. One hundred more will begin within the week, taking first aid courses at Hedges school under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Bishop, Bardsley said.

* * *

BARDSLEY cooperated with the Chamber of Commerce in an extensive water safety show last summer. His program also has included extension of swimming classes throughout city schools.

The fact that no child drowned in Richland county during the past summer, Bardsley thinks is due to the extensive swimming program put on by the YMCA, Senior high school and Red Cross.

"There were several Richland county children who drowned when away from home, of course," Bardsley explained, "but no one drowned while in Richland county. It was due, I think to the fact that we all have stressed swimming instruction harder than ever before."

* * *

PAUL SNYDER, Senior high school coach, expects soon to inaugurate a life-saving class at the school, Bardsley said.

Before coming to Mansfield, Bardsley had 26 months with the navy, where he served as swimming instructor at Brown university, helped teach swimming at Newport, R. I., and was a petty officer first class at the naval hospital at San Diego, Calif., working in the rehabilitation program there.

Although Bardsley leaves his job at the Red Cross Friday, he and his family will not leave Mansfield until Feb. 11. They will eventually settle in Seattle, Wash., where Bardsley expects to take up a business career.

Puncture-Sealing Tubes Come Back

Return of the puncture-sealing inner tubes to the Mansfield automobile market after a five-year absence was announced today by Hugh H. Hutchinson, manager of the B. F. Goodrich store.

The new "seal-O-matic tubes retain air when punctured by glass, nails and wire, hazards which are the most frequent cause of flats, Hutchinson said.

Deadline Near for Filing For Survivors' Benefits

Eligible survivors of World War II veterans who died after their discharge from the armed forces and before Aug. 10, 1946, have only 12 days to file their claims to receive benefits payable back to the time of the veteran's death, Edward P. Blonston, manager of the Mansfield office, Social Security administration, warned today.

The 1946 veterans' amendment to the Social Security act provided monthly cash benefits for dependents of ex-servicemen who died or will die within three years after discharge, leaving their survivors without compensation or pensions from the Veterans' administration.

Survivors of ex-servicemen who died before the enactment of the amendment were given six months in which to apply for benefits payable back to the date of the veteran's death. That six-month period expires Feb. 10.

"Applications under the veterans' amendment have been fewer in this area, and nationally, than was expected," Blonston said. "It is possible that a number of eligible persons have failed to apply for their benefits. They should seek information at once at their nearest Social Security office."

The Mansfield office is at 405 Richland Trust building.

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, Jan. 31.

A rather strange or curious course of events, or some sort of subtle and bewindering undercurrent of experiences, circumstances or adventures, might be the means of breaking down the devastating, explosive and unproductive complexion of recent days, making way for some unique experience or worthwhile achievement, if handled with ingenuity, restraint and practical grasp of underlying causes. Deep analysis, efficient management and a generally tactful and conciliatory mode of conduct might produce strange and startling results. Tread slowly, sagaciously, alertly.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year of the peculiar, subtle, baffling and intriguing, in which great issues are at stake, depending upon the sagacity, acumen, shrewdness and finesse with which extraordinary or bewildering situations are maneuvered. A break in recent affairs, of far-reaching significance, may produce startling or dramatic denouements. Analysis, rationalizing, conciliation and intuition may develop into some inspiring climax. But keep alert to all possibilities.

'Fashions of Our Times' to Be Presented by O'Neil's

THE FIRST of a series of style shows to be presented by the M. O'Neil company will be given Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock and again in the evening at 8 o'clock in the ballroom of the Mansfield-Leland hotel. These shows which are open to the public will forecast the latest in spring and summer fashions. It is reported by leading dress designers we are in for our first unregulated spring in the way of unusual clothes. O'Neil's are ready with an up-to-date display of five types of women's wearing apparel.

Whether you want a crisp tailored suit for career or shopping, or prefer the latest in "swallow-tail" backs or "cut-away" fronts for that more dressed-up feeling, you're bound to find what you like in the first display shown by professional models from Akron. Included in this showing will also be smart spring coats with the "fish-tail" backs and also the boxy styles.

The second part will consist of dresses; those for the young and gay, and also the more sophisticated types. This season the "pencil-slim" and the "drum" skirts are featured. Leisure ensembles with just the right touch of femininity will please the eye during the third part of the showing.

Cocktail gowns and formal wear will hold all eyes as attractive models walk down the long ramp and gracefully turn for admiring glances. For the first time since the war the designers have gone "all out" on the use of yardage to enhance their party gowns.

Last but far from the least will be the bridal scenes which one has to see to appreciate. 'Tis said these lovelies will make young heads go dreaming and scheming and make the married ladies sigh and wish they were born 30 years later.

All in all there will be 40 complete changes. One of the highlights of the show will be the unusual demonstration of proper and improper accessories. A suit which has been perfectly matched with appropriate accessories and the same suit with badly chosen gloves, hat, bag and jewelry will be explained and shown.

Music will be furnished by two trios. Mrs. R. V. Myers, pianist, of Mansfield; Vernon Roeder, clarinetist, of Ashland, and David Kirsch, violinist, of Ashland, will compose one trio. The Penta Sisters of Akron will sing several selections. The commentary will be given by Maggi Anderson, public relations director of O'Neil's in Akron.

Models from Akron will be the Misses Grace Kneifel, Jean Schwab, Virginia Carroll, Delphine Smith, Joan Orr, Ethel Miller, Ila Clemenson and Pat Owen.

Miss Lois Ohler Feted by Friends at Valentine Party

For the pleasure of Miss Lois Ohler, bride-elect of Charles Sofield of Hudson, N. Y., was the party given Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Betty Hamman, 267 West Fifth street. Associate hostess was Mrs. Howard Downard. Miss Ohler will be wed in an open church service Feb. 16 at 4:30 o'clock before the altar of the First Lutheran church.

Appointments for the party were in keeping with Valentine day. Hearts with names of famous persons on them were pinned on the back of each guest who were to guess their own identify. Later the 15 in attendance made a bride's book for the honoree. Hearts were played with prizes won by Miss Ohler, Miss Evelyn Rogers and Mrs. Larry Foor.

A large red heart, decorated with numerous white hearts, on which were written hints for finding the shower gifts, directed Miss Ohler to their hiding places. She received many lovely gifts. Refreshments were served from tables decorated in red and white with heart favors.

BETA CHAPTER.

Beta chapter members of the Tri Gamma sorority met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Al Bowser; Marion avenue road. Mrs. Gene Drapeau was in charge of the business, at which time it was voted to donate to the March of Dimes. Fourteen were present for a social evening of bridge. Plans were made for the next meeting on Feb. 12 when a bake sale will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Caston, Bartley avenue.

Garden Center Schedules Lecture Friday Afternoon

ONE of the best educational projects offered the women of Mansfield is the Mansfield Garden Center. Through the endeavors of its members, men and women of this locality may gain knowledge of the most up-to-date methods in raising vegetables and flowers; the treatment of shrubs and trees; the care of gardens; the arrangement of flowers and many other items of interest throughout the year.

Among other advantages offered are the free lectures given periodically by garden authorities from other cities and states. Tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. Arnold Davis of Cleveland will speak on "Gardening at Home" in the church parlors of the First Presbyterian church. These programs are open to the public.

The Garden Center maintains a room on the second floor of the Public library where anyone may see the current display arranged by various garden groups of Mansfield or read from the latest magazines or books on subjects pertaining to nature.

One of the current projects of the Center is the planting of eight trees at Vetsville. During the war the Center served as a clearing house for empty lots for victory gardens.

Present officers of the Center are Mrs. A. M. Colby, president; Mrs. George Price, vice president; Mrs. David Feiser, secretary, and Mrs. Weston Cutter, treasurer.

Since the opening of the Garden Center on April 23, 1941, in its present room at the library, garden clubs have cooperated for its progress. Organizations which have contributed throughout these past six years include the Mansfield Garden club, Johnny Appleseed club, the Astowela, Town and Country, Cottage, Linnaeus, Buckeye, Royal Regal, Garden Study club and the Audubon club.

Each month a different club presents a display at the library. Beginning Saturday members of the Johnny Appleseed club will exhibit branches of trees and shrubs which have been forced into early bloom. During January the Audubon club has shown the proper feeding of birds in the winter. During December Linnaeus members exhibited herbs and seeds, attractively packaged for Christmas gifts.

Mrs. Louis Ott jr. was the first president of the Center, assisted by Mrs. Frederick Crouse, vice president, and Mrs. George Holland, secretary-treasurer.

Members of the Center feel that "if a Garden Center is to be of value to the community it must be of service. The degree of value is measured by the kind of service as it reaches the largest number of people."

DIVISION MEETING.

Mrs. Fred Proctor, Highland avenue, entertained members of Division Three of the United Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon at her home. A dessert-luncheon was served after which the afternoon was spent socially. Twelve were present for sewing and the sorting of tax stamps. The next meeting will be held Feb. 26 with the hostess to be announced later.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Sam Hackney Reports on the U.S.A.

Sam Hackney and the missus just returned from a trailer trip around the country. They're tired, and glad to be home, but mighty impressed with what they saw.

As Sam reports—every section has something different; a different way of talking; different tastes in food and drink; different laws and customs. But bigger than all these differences is the American spirit of tolerance that lets us live together in united peace.

"Of course," says Sam, "you run into intolerance from time to time. Individuals who criticize another's right to speak his mind; enjoy a glass of beer; or work at any trade he chooses. But those are the exceptions—and we're even tolerant of them!"

From where I sit, more of us ought to make a trip like the Hackneys — to realize firsthand how America is bigger than its many differences .. how tolerance of those differences is the very thing that makes us strong.

Fights Luxury Taxes

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Looks like I've got to dust off my old copper-coil still, skin a couple of cats, buy a pigeon, polish my lantern, and rub my head in rose petals.

I'll get a brace-and-bit for boring knot-holes, haul a tow-sack out of the cellar, take some flute lessons, train my telescope on the Union Station clock, and fit me out an air-tight closet so I can get smoke in my eyes. That'll fix our lawgivers.

These babies claim that indefinite extension of the excise taxes will net 'em better than $1,000,000,000 a year. None of my dollars, it won't. They say the government's got debts; well, so have I.

Having listened to the Messrs. Knutson, McCormack, et al argue about the difference between the words "indefinitely" and "permanently" as applied to luxury taxes, I must report that the words don't matter to me. So long as the tax on drinking liquor is $9 a gallon, I simply want to remind the government that I've made by own schnapps before. I can do it again.

Rep. John D. Dingell of Michigan said he didn't think the working man was going to like the idea of continued mourning for the five-cent glass of beer. He's right. I'm a working man. I don't like it. So when the mash begins to cool, I'll drop in two yeast cakes, a handful of raisins and . . .

Then there was Rep. Walter A. Lynch of N. Y. He said fur coats weren't luxuries to be taxed 20 per cent. His cohorts ignored him. I understand that if you've plenty of room it's easy to skin a cat.

* * *

I DON'T KNOW, myself, how come the government figures a long-distance phone call is a super-luxury taxable at 25 per cent, while a local call is a second-rate luxury worth only a 15 per cent nick. That's where my new, message-carrying pigeon comes in; nobody'd better try to tax him. The tax on light bulbs, said Rep. Raymond Springer of Ind., is inexplicable. That is a fancy word, but if it means what I think, I agree. I'll make do with my lantern. A 20 cent extra tap on every dollar's worth of sweet-smelling hair goo pains me more in principle than in fact. Worrying about congress has caused my hair long since to grow thin. What little I have I'll massage with blossoms from my own garden.

My knot-hole drill will take care of the 20 per cent take on ball game tickets, my old sack (in which I formerly hauled beer bottles) should be a good substitute for the luxury known as the suitcase, while the flute lessons are just in case.

In case my radio goes blooie. I'm paying no 20 per cent tax on audio-frequency tubes; I'm making my own music.

I've been needing a gold watch for a long time, but I don't intend to spend $120 for a $100 ticker. I can't get the time from the phone company because I've quit using my telephone, but the clock on the station is free. I have an excellent view of it through my spyglass.

Rep. Dingell said he feared the customers of night clubs were sick of the government's paws in their pockets. One of the biggest such plush-lined joints here went bankrupt the other day. Many a jazz bandsman the country over is looking for a job, even as a tax collector. So it is that I have prepared my air-tight closet.

In it I will smoke tobacco from the plot back of my tomato bushes, tootle my flute, swig my own high-proof refreshments, and provide myself with a taxfree hangover each Saturday night. Your next move, government. I'm waiting. But not for long.

WESTBROOK PEGLER

Comments On Slang

ALISTAIR COOK, a young Englishman, has done an objective and serious but not at all down-the-nose essay about the Broadway Americanese that Damon Runyon wrote in his fiction pieces about the characters that he met in his nocturnal levees at Lindy's restaurant and, in his later years, at the Stork and in Hollywood.

Mr. Cook is a fellow with a great inquisitiveness about our country. He has traveled the United States more than most Americans have and he has a good ear for our speech. It will not misrepresent him to say that he regards Runyonese not as any typical American jargon but as something that one man made up and the English people, in England, who are incurably naive about us, gobbled in a belief that this was the real thing.

I agree with Mr. Cook. I used to know many of the individuals that Runyon wrote into his stories, and although some of them did speak a slang of their own and toss off amusing figures of speech, they couldn't keep it up as Damon's people did. Moreover, that ornateness that he imparted to their conversation, as when the fellow says, "And this is regarded as very reprehensible, indeed" or "such conduct is heartily deplored by one and all"—things like that—was pleasantly sardonic and gave the reader to feel that he recognized the quaint character who was speaking, but actually it was hopelessly stilted as they discovered when they put this language onto the sound tracks of the movies.

* * *

ALTHOUGH DAMON had been a bad drinker in his youth, he was a teetotaler as long as I knew him, an acquaintanceship of a little over 30 years, because, as he once remarked, "there are ten guys in this world who can't handle liquor and I am nine of them."

Therefore, for sitting-around purposes, he drank coffee and he was always at the office, as you could say, because his ear was always recording and his mind improving and polishing the remarks and the cynicism of his acquaintances.

Other writers, drinking a little or too much, would relax and enjoy themselves, always with the thought that they would mentally jot the cliches and anecdotes of the evening, whether it was in a drawing-room, going somewhere on a train or at some restaurant, but perhaps you know how it is about that. Your mind rejects work and the next day you have forgotten.

Damon had an honest preference for underworld personalities and he disliked "respectability," holding that high-suburban gentlemen were no more honest or ethical than his own frankly low rapscallion friends. We were discussing a mutual friend and colleague one day who had been caught in the collapse of 1929 and Damon said that he ran with a lot of phonies who gave him bum tips on the market whereas his own associates were always profitable because he was always writing them into fiction and movies at high prices.

Only a few of Damon's set really spoke slang fluently and beautifully, and much of their language required cleaning up before it could be offered for sale.

Damon knew nothing of family life in areas of New York where most of New York lives neither in luxury nor in squalor, neither by crime nor on large incomes, but from week to week by working at jobs. Of these millions not more than one in a thousand has ever seen the inside of expensive night clubs which in the imagination of millions here and abroad have been established as a sort of collective town pump of New York.

WALTER WINCHELL

Iron Curtain In U. S.

DURING THE EARLY 1930's the McCormick Congressional Committee stacked a batch of sizzling evidence about subversives. Those revelations are still pertinent. But the committee's most potent firecrackers were sealed and pigeon-holed . . . The evidence was sealed because it was too hot to handle at that time. It concerned well-heeled and prominent Americans who paid the bills for native fascists and foreign agents. The factual dynamite also contained explosive info about well-known politicos who helped draw up the subversive blueprints . . . There have been many promises that this evidence would be given the once-over by the spotlight. But the sealed records still gather dust in the Government's archives.

* * *

The files of the State Dep't are packed with stunners about Gen. Franco. Every infamous fact about his odious career is a part of its secret records. It contains every treacherous move made by France during the war—when he was the top errand-runner for his Axis chums . . . But our diplomats have not made the evidence public for fear it would arouse Americans into forcing the State Dep't to call a halt to its namby-pambying of the Spanish tyrant and some of his buddies in the U. S. A.

* * *

The Dies Committee made a hobby of thefting headlines. They never muffed an opportunity to rush into the public prints with flimsy charges that were never confirmed. But when the committee did manage to snare vital facts—they were buried . . . Its most important expose involved influential Americans who played ball with Nazis. Several years ago various reporters and editorialists called upon Dies to bring this report out into the sunlight. But he nixed the idea. Apparently Dies was frightened by the truth—because the records of this expose found a grave in a pigeonhole.

* * *

For obvious reasons the most important members of the Communist Party remain a mystery. Despite all the probes and investigators, communist leaders have refused to divulge their names . . . Like all rats, communists operate most effectively in the darkness.

* * *

Remember the shameful Detroit race riot? A short time after this shocking event exploded across the front pages the authorities in Detroit announced that they had the names and the facts about the rabble-rousers who instigated the riot. The inciters were Klansmen. Bundists and other troublemerchants. Law and order officials piously vowed that they would be brought to trial . . . Then the iron curtain came down and the promises and the evidence were completely forgotten. Why the riot-inciters never faced a judge and jury remains a mystery.

NUMBERS RACKET HIT

TROY — (UP) — Eight persons were held for investigation in Miami county jail here today following a raid on a garage where slips representing $8,000 in a numbers racket were seized.

ONLY $1,000 REPORTED IN DIMES DRIVE

County Committee Far Short of Goal With Deadline Near.

With the March of Dimes campaign officially scheduled to close tonight, Richland county, with about $1,000 of its $6,000 goal raised still has a long way to go, W. H. McClellan, drive chairman, said today.

Official returns, reported today by Marshall C. Moore, drive secretary, were $910.14. This does not include the coin box and theatre collections which are yet to be tabulated. They will undoubtedly raise the sum over the $1,000 mark, Moore said.

The picture may brighten as returns from Lexington, Shiloh, and Shelby, come in, McClellan said. Collections in the Ritz and Park theatres here, when finally tabulated, will probably top last year's figures, he said.

Among the latest contributors of $5 and over to the fund were Mansfield Senior high school, $109.40; Flexible Conveyor company, $40; Local 711 UERMWA, $25; Roger J. Au, $50; Ohio Textile company, $15; Child Study club and Adario Methodist Sunday school, $10 each; Palmer class, First Methodist church, D. O. Meese, C. M. Maso, H. R. Fiedler, Saltzgaber Drilling company, F. A. Walter, and F.O.L. Carpenter, $5 each.

Although the March of Dimes campaign is officially scheduled to end tonight, McClelland said that contributions would be received at any time.

6 DRIVERS PAY $145 IN FINES

Six motorists were fined a total of $145 and costs yesterday in traffic court, among them an Ashland driver fined $100 and costs on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Earl E. Gardner, of Ashland, pleaded innocent to the charge. He was found guilty, was fined, and his license was suspended for six months.

Police reported that a car driven by Gardner collided with autos driven by Orval W. Long, Trailer City, and Glenn S. Montes, 136 Sixth avenue. Long's car was struck despite the fact he backed up 15 feet in an effort to avoid the collision, court officials said.

Fined on other traffic counts were Earl J. Deems, 640 Scholl road, $10 and costs, failing to yield right-of-way; Frank Booth, 448 Reed street, $10 and costs, speeding; Wayne R. Hamlin, 239 Poplar street, $5 and costs, failing to stop at a stop sign; Harry R. Gimbel, Mansfield, R. D. 2, $10 and costs, speeding; Paul E. Miley, Cleveland, $10 and costs, speeding.

Case of G. W. Bahl sr., 109 West Second street, charged with failing to stop after an accident and failing to display a driver's license, was continued until next Wednesday.

MISSING PILOT'S BODY IDENTIFIED

Identification of the body of Second Lt. Lydon H. Beam jr., killed in a plane crash, June 9, 1944, over Munich, Germany, was reported yesterday to his father by the adjutant general.

Beam said he was informed identification had been made by the army tags found on his son's body where it was buried in Munich. Beam said that final burial would be made in the U. S. military cemetery near Metz, Germany.

Lt. Beam, pilot of a B-24 Liberator bomber, had been overseas less than two weeks when he was killed. He was 22.

Confirmation of Lt. Beam's death was made by a crew member, only survivor of the crash.

Mansfield Division 195, organized naval reserve, is "fast taking shape," Lt. Cmdr. A. E. Heiser, in charge of the local recruiting drive, said today.

He released the names of seven more officers appointed to the division. This brings the total officers to 11, with two vacancies still existing.

Latest appointments are Giles E. Hamilton, 170 West Third street, Mansfield, personnel officer; Lt. (jg) George D. Cunningham, New London, communications officer; Lt. Edwin E. Gearhart, principal of Bucyrus high school, and Lt. George M. Guiley, dean of students at Ashland college, instructors.

Lt. Arthur A. Vanosdall, of Ashland; Lt. Robert G. Haldeman, of Marion, and Ensign Howard E. Barnhill were appointed officers of the division without specific assignments.

Officers previously appointed are Lt. Cmdr. Thomas B. Wright jr., commanding officer; Lt. Carl G. A. Johnson, executive officer; Lt. Robert H. Coe, supply officer, and Lt. William L. Curtice jr., communications officer.

The division already has recruited 43 enlisted men, Heiser said. The complement of a full division numbers 200 enlisted men, leaving many positions open. Among them are one chief petty officer, five petty officers first class, 19 petty officers second class, 20 petty officers third class, and 126 enlisted men in pay grades four, five and six.

The division trains each Tuesday night in the Memorial building. Members are paid at the rate of one-thirtieth of their monthly base pay for each two-hour drill. A 14-day cruise once a year, with pay and allowances, is included in the training program.

Members of the Electronic Warfare Company 97 and its five platoons, who serve on a volunteer basis, are eligible for promotion to the organized division as vacancies occur, Heiser explained.

Student Nurses Urged to Pick Their Life Philosophy Early

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Each carrying a candle-lamp, symbolical of Florence Nightingale, founder of the nursing order, 11 student nurses of Mansfield General hospital received their white caps last night in an impressive ceremony at St. Luke's Lutheran church.

Before approximately 100 parents, friends, registered nurses and "big sister" nurses who guided the novices through the exercises, the class of 1949 was urged by Dr. Herbert S. Garnes, pastor of St. Luke's church, to choose the "school of philosophy" they would follow through their nursing career.

"It is up to you now to decide which school you will follow—whether you will adopt the philosophy of 'I' in your success or whether you will call upon God to help you toward your goal," Dr. Garnes said.

Receiving their caps were Misses Nancy Briner, Arlene Brown, Mary Croneis, Merfel George, Roseline Mary Hatten, Wanda Hollar, Ruth Lewis, Rachel Osbun, Norma Stichler, Alberta Straub and Mary K. Straub.

Presented for capping by Carie Beal, registered nurse of the hospital staff, the students were given their charge by Miss Dorothy Bird, director of nurses.

"I charge that each of you be faithful in the performance of your duties, seeking always the welfare of the patient serving all without favoritism or prejudice, and failing not in patience nor in gentleness," Miss Bird said.

The welcome to the class was given by Margery Worden, president of the student council. Then "My Creed" was sung by the incoming class. The creed includes these lines:

"I dedicate myself today to those who need my tender care.
May strength be given me I pray, to lift the cross that others bear—
When duty calls I will obey."

Dr. A. O. Fonkalsrud, superintendent of the hospital, gave the invocation and benediction and Miss Glada Oswalt of the student nurse body served as pianist.

More Traffic Lights to Get Amber Globes

Some of Mansfield's two-color traffic signals will have three colors soon, City Electrician Ernest Adams reported yesterday. Amber lights are to be added to four old-style signals.

The move is designed to improve driving conditions in the city by lengthening the lights' warning signals. Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals has described the two-globe lights as "confusing."

Signals to which amber globes are to be added soon include those at Sturges avenue and First street; West Fourth street and Penn avenue; Park avenue east and Foster street and Second and Foster streets, Adams said.

Parts also have been ordered for two-color lights at Newman and Grace streets; Mulberry and Harker streets and Park avenue west and West Park drive, he said.

2 CITED AFTER 3-CAR MISHAP

A three-car collision on Vale avenue about 5 p. m. yesterday resulted in charges today against two Lily street men.

Zeth Lindsay, 53, of 534 Lily street, driver of one of the vehicles, was charged with driving without a license, and the car's owner, Preston Lindsay, of the same address, was cited for allowing an unlicensed operator to drive. Both are to appear in traffic court next Wednesday.

Lindsay's car was in collision with one driven by Anna R. Roos, 36 Orchard street, whose car in turn struck a parked vehicle operated by Dorothy Shorsher, of Vetsville.

Herbert Arnold, 16, Mansfield, R. D. 4, was treated at General hospital last night for head and face bruises suffered when he was thrown from his bicycle in a collision with a car, driven by Eddie Bates, 34, of Cleveland.

State highway officers said the mishap occurred at 5:45 p. m. on U. S. Route 42, three miles north of Mansfield.

Up and Down The Street

IT WILL HELP—

A "pass-the-hat" contribution of pennies, nickles and dimes totaling $10, collected by the Richland County Society of Old Age Pensioners, was turned over to the Friendly House building fund this week with the hopes "it will be of some help." A letter from the society to Russell Gimbel, director of the Friendly House, stated:

"Members of our society feel that the social service rendered our Mansfield community by the Friendly House is a worthy service and should be continued and enlarged.

"Since the average age of the membership of our society is 75 years and our average aid but $38 per month, none of us was able to make individual contributions. So we passed the hat at our last meeting with the enclosed results."

The $60,000 drive for a new settlement house ended more than $2,000 to the good.

4 SENTENCED TO STATE PEN

Four men recently indicted by the county grand jury were sentenced by Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch yesterday. Three were ordered to serve their terms in the Ohio State penitentiary.

Joe Thomas jr., 38, of 247 North Main street, committed to the penitentiary for a term of one to 15 years. He pleaded guilty to attempted breaking and entering.

Lyall Eugene Lewis, 32, of 147 Pleasant avenue, pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement. He was sentenced to the penitentiary for one to 10 years.

Robert L. Allison, 24, of 222½ North Main street, drew a sentence of one to three years in the penitentiary for carrying concealed weapons.

J. L. Weyant, 42, of Curtice, O., pleaded guilty to obtaining under false pretenses $1,700 from P. G. Renie. At the intercession of Renie and representatives of the Mansfield Savings Trust National bank, Judge Kalbfleisch placed Weyant on probation for five years.

Terms of his probation include stipulations that one-half of the $1,700 must be repaid within six months and the rest in accordance with ability to pay as determined by the court's probation department.

Parents Get Prison Term For Neglect

Four years of repeated offenses in the neglect of their children yesterday brought county jail and reformatory sentences today to Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Sheriff, Perrysville, R. D. 2.

Juvenile Judge S. H. Cramer sentenced Mrs. Sheriff to the women's reformatory at Marysville for one year and committed her husband to the county jail for 30 days.

"They didn't feed the children, didn't keep them clean and didn't have them attend school after numerous court orders and conferences," Judge Cramer said.

Early in December the parents were given suspended 10-day county jail sentences and were ordered to keep their 15-year-old son and 16-year-old daughter in school.

The action commits the children to the custody of the county child welfare department until the father serves his time and can support them.

The body was removed to the Wappner funeral home where services will be held Saturday at 1 p. m. in charge of Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor of the First Lutheran church. Burial will be in Lexington cemetery.

SEEKS OPINION ON INCREASING BUILDING FUND

Commission Decides to Call For Bids on Sanatorium to Get Program Moving.

Convinced that a 49-bed county tuberculosis sanatorium can't be built now for $300,000, the newly-created county TB building commission today sought legal advice as to whether the county can add funds, if available, to the $300,000 provided in a bond issue to finance the project.

Meanwhile, the commission has decided to advertise for bids on the $300,000 project and see and whether we want to add to the fund."

Herbert S. Jones, Mansfield architect, yesterday was employed as architect for the project and was asked to prepare advertising for bids. Plans he drew several months ago at the request of county commissioners were approved. The action was taken at a meeting of the commission at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

* * *

Ask Lutz For Ruling.

The building commissioners have asked County Prosecutor Theodore Lutz to investigate the legalities of providing more funds to meet labor and materials prices which have zoomed since the bond issue was authorized.

"What we will want to know," said John C. O'Donnell, member of the commission, "is whether more money can legally be added to the $300,000. If so, how, ed to the $300,000. If so, how can it be added, and do we want to add to the fund.

There was some question as to whether the commission was authorized to spend more money than was approved by the voters in the bond issue.

The meeting yesterday put the sanatorium project on a legal basis since all previous work had been done without the existence of the building commission which should have been created within 30 days of the passage of the bond issue.

* * *

Keep Estimate Down.

Although most of the members of the newly-created building commission admit the cost of the hospital will exceed the $300,000 provided in a bond issue passed by the voters in the fall of 1945, they set the estimate at that figure in order to stay within the law in advertising for bids.

"Three-hundred thousand dollars won't build this hospital, but by advertising we can find out what the contractors are thinking about it. If their bids are in excess of the estimate you will just have to reject them and find ways of getting more money," Jones told the commission.

The three county commissioners, who are part of the seven-member building commission; Jones, and Civilian Production administration officials have repeatedly said the sanatorium, as planned, would cost the county at least $400,000 in these times of skyrocketing building costs.

Jones had divided that cost figure into $240,000 for general construction, $60,000 for plumbing and heating, $25,000 for electrical wiring, $15,000 for grading, $50,000 for equipment, and $10,000 for miscellaneous items.

After revision for purposes of legal advertising, Jones's figures were $215,000 for general construction, $50,000 for plumbing and heating, $20,000 for electrical wiring, and $15,000 for equipment. Bids without provisions for the planned six-car garage are to be requested.

TAYLOR TOTS PERCHED ATOP LONG STREAK

Butler Needs One Win To Cinch County Title.

Mansfield's 70th hardwood battle tomorrow night with Ashland's terrific Taylor Tots at Ashland easily hogs the area basketball spotlight.

Ashland has romped to nine straight triumphs and has won 10 of 11 for the season to move right up among the top strata of Ohio Class A high school outfits. Included in the nine consecutive wins was a 49 to 43 victory over the Senior high Tygers.

However, Coach Vern Hoffman's lads have gained a wide reputation as record spoilers in the last few weeks and could bring the Ashland cage house tumbling down. The Tygers nipped a favored Springfield team, 33 to 29, and then last Friday upset a highly-rated Warren Harding club, 64 to 46.

The A's bulled over Barberton Tuesday night, 51 to 39.

No Tickets at Gate.

Ashland officials announced again today that absolutely no tickets would be sold at the gate tomorrow. Tickets for Mansfielders and Ashlanders to be purchased at advance sales. Tyger followers will sit in a special section which will be reserved until 7:30.

Butler needs only a victory over Ontario tomorrow night to clinch another Richland county league title. Butler has won 11 straight and is a prohibitive favorite to romp over Ontario. The latter club has won seven of 11 games to tie Bellville for third place.

Lexington has an outside chance to catch the Bulldogs. The Minutemen have won 8 of 11 games.

However, Lexington would have to win all of its remaining three games while Butler was losing three to tie for the crown.

Union plays at Lexington, Lucas at Shiloh and Plymouth at Bellville in the other county games.

Shelby needs a victory over Norwalk tomorrow night to remain in the running for the Northern Ohio league cage title. Upper Sandusky and Bellevue are tied for third with four wins and one defeat while Shelby has three triumphs and one loss. Norwalk defeated the Whippets 44 to 20 in a non-league game.

Crestline at Willard.

Bellevue travels to Bucyrus, Upper Sandusky to Galion and Crestline to Willard in other loop games tomorrow. Bucyrus and Norwalk are tied for fourth with two wins and two defeats apiece.

Mansfield Senior high plays at home Saturday night, meeting Youngstown Chaney at 8:30. The Tyger sophomores play Ontario in the preliminary contest at 7 p. m.

Loudonville will play Jeromesville in a "March of Dimes" benefit game Saturday night on the Loudonville court. Loudonville has won three of 10 games while Jeromesville has copped 11 straight in Ashland county competition.

The Perrysville-Savannah contest originally scheduled on the Savannah court tomorrow night will be played on the Ashland college hardwood Saturday at 8 p. m. A reserve clash will open the program at 7 o'clock.

Friday.

Mansfield Tygers at Ashland, Lucas at Shiloh, Plymouth at Bellville, Union at Lexington, Ontario at Butler, Bellevue at Bucyrus, Crestline at Willard, Upper Sandusky at Galion, Shelby at Norwalk, Loudonville at Jeromesville at Savannah, Ashland college gym, 7:15 p. m., Ruggles at Hayesville, Polk at Nova, Marysville at Mt. Gilead, Townsend at New Haven.

Shelby Quint Takes Seventh 'Y' League Win

Shelby's Merchants retained their undefeated record in the YMCA Commercial B league at the 'Y' court last night.

The Merchants swamped Ohio Public Service 39 to 29 for their seventh consecutive victory. The OPS loss put the Service team in third place with a record of five victories against two setbacks.

Jim Sands, Merchant's pivotman, tallied six field goals and one foul shot.

Phalanx fraternity strengthened its grip on second place by defeating Brodie's Cigar store, 32 to 28. Matt Hager scored nine points to help the Phalanx five to its sixth victory in seven games.

Mansfield Tire won its initial league victory by upsetting Dominion Electric, 24 to 19. The Tiremen grabbed an 8 to 4 first period lead and jumped to a 15 to 6 half time margin. Going into the final stanza, Tire was out in front 17 to 10.

Guard Bowen tallied 14 points for the Westinghouse cagers but they dropped a one-point verdict to Mansfield Plating 28 to 27. Trailing at the intermissions 7 to 2, 12 to 10 and 23 to 20, the Plating five rallied in the final quarter to win.

Golf Pros Ready For Tucson Open

TUCSON, Ariz. —(UP)— More than 120 of the nation's topnotch golfers were ready today for the first round of the 72-hole, $10,000 Tucson Open.

Dress rehearsal for the four-day event was held in the form of a pro-amateur match yesterday. Harold (Jug) McSpaden, Sanford, Me., who was half of the famed "gold dust twins" twosome of the fairways of two seasons ago, teamed with Walker Cup star Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., to card a course-burning 59 best-ball mark by a single stroke.

All America Conference Plans To Bolster Its Weaker Clubs

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK—(UP)—With five of their eight clubs operating at a loss last year, club owners of the All-America Football conference agreed unanimously today on a revolutionary plan to increase gate receipts by bolstering weaker clubs with outright player gifts from the four top teams.

Details of the plan to tighten up the 1947 race were scheduled for immediate discussion as the third day of their annual winter meeting opened with a three-man committee still on the prowl for a new commissioner to replace "Sleepy Jim" Crowley.

Hamilton on Inside.

Capt. Tom Hamilton, Navy football coach, was reported on the inside track for the $30,000 a year job Crowley relinquished to become owner-coach of the Chicago Rockets. A majority of owners was said to favor Hamilton if he became available.

The plan to strengthen the league's second division clubs—Brooklyn, Buffalo, Baltimore and Chicago—met little opposition. All owners agreed that the runaway races of the Cleveland Browns in the western division and the New York Yankees in the East held down attendance in games played late in the season.

After early discussions, it was reported that Baltimore and Buffalo would receive a total of four players, one from each of the first division clubs. A minor dispute developed over whether Brooklyn and Chicago each would receive four or only two each.

In balancing the league's "have not" clubs with the "haves," a proposal was made to permit the strong teams to reserve 15 players and allow the weaklings to select from the remainder. Cleveland, New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles are the "have" clubs which would be targets in the draft.

Simpson Tops Willard, 56-11

John Simpson extended its home winning streak to 19 yesterday afternoon when the Bulldogs annihilated Willard 56 to 11.

Coach Bob Kennedy's starting five played but nine minutes and then Kennedy sent in his eighth grade team. Johnny Sazandoff and Ken McCally each scored eight points for the Bulldogs.

Another Comeback

WASHINGTON, Pa. —(UP)— Sammy Angott, victorious in two cracks at the world's lightweight boxing championship, today announced his third comeback attempt. He will meet Johnny Bratton in Chicago stadium, Feb. 18.

Beverage Basketeers Ease Past Legion Five

A hard-fighting American Legion Post 72 cage quintet almost spelled doom for the sharp shooting Richland Beverage five in the City A league at the junior high gym last night.

Clinging to an 18 to 13 half time lead the Beveragemen eased past the Legionnaires 36 to 33 in one of the closest, hardest fought games of the season. The victory enabled Richland to tie Smokehouse and Komito's Clothiers for first place in the first division.

Substitute Dean Hahn supplied the scoring punch to keep the Beverage team in front. He contributed seven field goals and two foul shots for 16 points. Ed Woodbury tallied 12 points for the Legion Post.

Move Ahead.

Barnes Manufacturing and Urschel Insurance added victories to their records to move ahead of Yunckers for first place in the second division. The two teams have won five of their eight tilts to share the lead.

Ted Jacobs and Jack Hammett tallied 11 points between themselves to lead Barnes over the Ohio Spts Center 51 to 30. Jacobs netted 16 while Hammett accounted for 15.

Barnes pulled away to a 20 to 0 lead before Jimmy Toals scored the first Spts Center point. Toals collected 14 for the losers.

Urschel's gained a first period 6 to 3 lead and broadened it 17 to 9 at the half and 30 to 19 at the end of the third period to knock off McCarrick's Gulf 46-25.

This was the first time McCarrick's have been tied to a city loop combine in the last three contests. Joe Radio counted seven fielders and two gift shots for the Insurance quintet.

Eddie Eagan Kayo Of Rocky Graziano Is Lead Pipe Cinch

NEW YORK —(UP)— It's a thousand-to-one bet that Eddie Eagan, former Olympic light heavyweight champion, will floor Rocky Graziano for "the long count" when they square off at tomorrow's meeting of the New York State Athletic commission.

Not a bookie in New York would give middleweight challenger Graziano a chance today against Eagan, the husky six-footer who now is chairman of the commission.

At 1 p. m. tomorrow, the bell is scheduled to clang on the fifth floor of the State building to start this historic $100,000-bribe encounter. In one corner will be Graziano, the dead-end kid from New York's East side who hammered his way to professional "golden boy" prominence. In the other corner will be Eagan, the once-poor boy from Colorado who became the "Cinderella Man" of amateur boxing.

Graziano is accused of failing to report to the commission the offer of a $100,000 fight bribe.

Even Rocky's closest friends were fearfully certain today that the muscular, tousled-haired Italian would be barred from New York state rings for life. They hoped, however, that he would not be fined; since he had accepted neither the offer nor the bribe money to "throw" his fight with Cowboy Ruben Shank, scheduled for Madison Square Garden on Dec. 27 but cancelled because of Rocky's "aching back."

Hot Stove League

NEW YORK—(INS)—The Cleveland Browns, first champions of the infant All-America conference, were assured today the return of practically the entire 1946 squad for next season.

Coach and General Manager Paul Brown announced in New York that of the roster of 37 players used in the title drive, 26 have already come to terms.

Center Mike Scarry and Right-Half Don Greenwood are the only regulars who have not signed as yet, but Brown said he expects little difficulty in settling terms with them.

Six new comers have already affixed their signatures to new contracts. These include Horace Gillom and Bill Huber, ends; Jack Carpenter and Mike Kasap, tackles, and Jim Dewar and John Duda, halfbacks.

Pete Layden Signs

BOSTON —(UP)— Pete Layden, former University of Texas football star, has signed a Boston Red Sox baseball contract, bringing to 17 the number of players who have signed for the 1947 season, the 1946 American league champions said today.

Layden batted .327 for New Orleans of the Southern Association last year and led the league in stolen bases.

Add Two Linemen

PITTSBURGH — (UP) — Two more linemen both college stars last season, were added today to the roster of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football league.

William (Red) Moore, star Penn State tackle of last season and Albert (Buck) Twomey, Boston College center were the latest acquisitions.

Looks For Assistants

CLEVELAND—(INS)—Joe Gavin, newly-appointed grid mentor at the University of Dayton, scoured the Cleveland football coaching field today to complete his staff.

Two leading contenders for the Dayton assistant posts are Danny Mormilio, Gavin's assistant at Cleveland Holy Name high school for 15 years, and Frank Gaul, of the John Carrol university staff.

Pitchers Come to Terms

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Five right-handed pitchers returned signed contracts to the Cincinnati Reds yesterday—John Hetki, Clayton Lambert, and Bob Mallow, with the Reds last year; Herman Wehmeier, a 1946 Columbia, S. C., hurler in the South Atlantic league, and Everett Lively, who had been on the voluntary retired list.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv.

Dimes Are Marching Again
THERE were 35,000 cases of infantile paralysis in the United States in 1946. Although this epidemic touched Mansfield lightly, it does point to the need for continuing the battle against polio. Indeed, it indicates reason to step up the fight.
Of the four cases in Mansfield last year, three were taken care of privately. The fourth case used up nearly all the funds remaining from last year's March of Dimes drive. Obviously, the local unit of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis needs more money than just enough to care for one case.
Half of the funds raised locally—the total last year was $5,800—go to the national fund. This may appear too be a large proportion but it must be recalled that the national fund to date has spent $12,314,465 for research and education. The national unit also comes to the aid of local treasuries when they are depleted, as was the case in 64 epidemic areas last year.
This explains the reason for the slogan "Gives Double" in 1947.

Dear Friend:

The 1947 MARCH OF DIMES Campaign for infantile paralysis is now coming to a close.

There is greater need this year than ever before. The epidemic of 1946, which was greater in extent than that of World War I, has largely exhausted the nation-wide fund for the care of victims.

Do you realize that it costs over TWO THOUSAND Dollars to care for one patient during the first stages of the disease? Thus a few cases in this county could exhaust the funds heretofore conserved.

All funds retained in this county are used for the actual need of infantile paralysis sufferers. No salaries are paid to anyone by the Richland County Chapter.

Contributions thus far received by this Chapter are running far behind those received in prior years.

The MARCH OF DIMES is "a living memorial" to the late Franklin D. Roosevelt. By giving to this cause we are enshrining his memory in a living institution dedicated to the alleviation of human suffering.
